

I am running for the NSSTA Board because our industry is evolving rapidly, and thoughtful leadership is more important than ever. As settlement planning continues to expand in complexity and opportunity, I believe it is critical that experienced firms actively contribute to shaping its future. Through my leadership of one of the top organizations in our space, I have had the opportunity to see firsthand both the challenges and the tremendous potential ahead. I am committed to bringing that perspective to the Board, collaborating with fellow industry leaders, and helping ensure NSSTA remains strong, progressive, and aligned with the needs of our members and the clients we ultimately serve.
